UNCHALLENGED

Other species have their fans — but the white-tailed deer clearly stands alone as North America's No. 1 big-game animal. And since 1982, no one else has covered it as well as North American Whitetail. With its consistent delivery of content keyed to hardcore hunters and habitat managers, NAW remains the leading authority in the whitetail market. North American Whitetail TV brings the same quality of content and credibility to its avid audience on Sportsman Channel, while NorthAmericanWhitetail.com delivers the digital content online users want. Put it all together and you have a diverse media platform serving the largest single market in big-game hunting.

Today's avid whitetail hunter wants answers to real-world issues. To meet that demand, NAW has always worked with the most respected names in the whitetail world: lifelong hunters and resource managers who themselves have faced similar situations and have worked hard to find practical solutions. Among these experts are biologist Dr. James Kroll ("Dr. Deer") and NAW editor in chief Gordon Whittington, both of whom have spent decades traveling North America to bring readers the latest hunting and management strategies. In the pages of NAW they're joined by such experts as Steve Bartylla, Bernie Barringer, Tony J. Peterson, Don Higgins, Haynes Shelton, Mark Kayser and Dan Cole: all writers whose words reflect years of experience across the varied landscape that is today's whitetail country.

The whitetail, its habitats and hunting methods are diverse. So North American Whitetail has cultivated a large group of real experts to provide rock-solid information. We help readers find not just more deer but also more enjoyment in the field.

BIG BUCK PROFILE: Since North American Whitetail's first issue in 1982, the magazine has consistently featured the most newsworthy record bucks, offering readers a fascinating inside look at the locations, gear and tactics that have made deer-hunting history.

DR. DEER: His name is Dr. James Kroll, but to the whitetail community he's "Dr. Deer." In every issue, the founder and director of the Institute for White-tailed Deer Management & Research shares his immense knowledge of deer behavior, biology and private-land management.

GEAR WISE: Readers looking for the best equipment need solid info for making smart choices that will translate into tangible whitetail success. Our experts reveal what they need and why.

NAW CONSERVATION: We reveal key events and trends — some natural, others manmade — that currently impact the world of whitetails and those who pursue them.

GONE PUBLIC: Many passionate hunters take to public land each fall. DIY expert Bernie Barringer shares the inspirational stories of fellow hunters who have taken bragging bucks in the process.

HALL OF FAME: From experts right on down to rookies, hunters of all ages can enjoy trophy success. This department lets them to share photos of their proudest moments with fellow readers.

NORTH AMERICAN WHITETAIL TV: Viewers know to expect thrilling fair-chase hunting action and sound management advice from our iconic TV series. We deliver the content — and the ratings.

TRAILS & TAILS: Every hunter has stories. Some even are true. We share the best of them in this back-page feature, which celebrates the personal moments that make the whitetail culture unique.

MY STAND: With a deer-hunting career spanning well over a half-century, editor in Chief Gordon Whittington has his trigger finger squarely on the pulse of the whitetail world, giving him unique insights into topics on the minds of hunters and managers everywhere.

Each issue's departments delve into a broad range of topics, providing short but meaty content to augment the lengthier features that are the magazine's lifeblood.

WHAT'S THE ULTIMATE DEER-HUNTING THRILL?

Most hardcore whitetailers would say it involves taking a trophy buck with archery gear. And the bowhunting scene continues to expand, as more developed areas see a trend toward non-firearms hunting regulations and other hunters seek extra challenge by turning to the bow.

ON TARGET WITH TODAY'S HUNTERS

FIREARMS

Firearms hunting remains hugely popular with the whitetail crowd with 91% using firearms to hunt deer, put venison on the table and keeping deer numbers.

We provide the content serious gun-lovers crave...

From expert advice on selecting and using all manner of firearms for whitetails; how-to content to help readers fill those gun tags (be it with a rifle out on the prairie, a slug gun in a Midwest corn field or a muzzleloader in a suburban woodlot in the Northeast); to debating new whitetail cartridges, telling how-to coax a few more feet per second out of a slug gun to covering that new state-record muzzleloader buck and more...

ARCHERY

With 84% of readers being bowhunters, our audience is eager to absorb new archery info. From product news to expert tips on stand placement, they soak up every bit of our ample bow-and-arrow content all year long.

LAND MANAGEMENT MATTERS

Years ago, deer hunters simply hunted. But that's no longer the case. These days, serious whitetail enthusiasts are as interested in protecting the resource as they are in filling the freezer. Our goal is to create and maintain a thriving population. That's why NAW has a sharp focus on helping private-land hunters and landowners build their own "deer factories."

Through our research projects and partnerships, NAW has a long history of developing and implementing sound management practices. Working closely with Dr. James Kroll ("Dr. Deer") and other experts, we offer practical advice on identifying the key components of quality whitetail habitat and showing how to improve it.

Our mission is to make North America a better place for whitetails and those who hunt them.

For a whitetail hunter, the last few months leading into a new season are a time of great anticipation. While the hardcore deer hunter is always thinking about his favorite big-game animal, as summer turns to fall these core readers are joined by an increasing number of others seeking the latest and greatest info on gear and hunting tactics.

That makes our July, August, September and October prime time for marketing products and services to today's whitetail audience.

We kick off with our July GEAR GUIDE followed by our August DIY ISSUE, September HUNTING ANNUAL and October HOW-TO SPECIAL.

It's all about THE HUNT, and the hunt in large measure is about your product in action.

North American whitetail delivers a large scale audience of dedicated, passionate high-quality enthusiasts and outdoorsman coupled with the strongest editorial environment available to the whitetail products market.

With its release between the July Gear Guide and September Hunting Annual, our unique DIY Special hits this growing segment of the whitetail market just as interest in unguided deer hunting accelerates in mid-summer.
